Even then the other man was not dismayed. He laughed and, throwing $2.50 on the bar, ordered all up to take a drink. The thoroughly cowed men obeyed. This robber sat at the end of the bar while one man handed him a whisky bottle and another handed him a glass. He drank this just as two more men entered from the outside. These men were asked to have a drink, and, laughing, the robber disappeared through a side door fully five minutes after the first man had left. The larger of the two weighed not more than

> 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and at 5:06 o'clock, almost precisely three hours later, the verdict was read in court. The jury did not follow the form of verdict submitted to it and employing the words "recommend the defendant to the mercy of the court," but returned a verdict that specifically commended that he "be imprisoned hard labor in the state prison for e." The laws of the state leave the adoption of this recommendation to the discretion of the court.

Judge Armstrong designated next Friday as the time for passing sentence.

Shockley Highly Pleased.

Shockley is satisfied with the verdict Shockley-is satisfied with the verdict and evidently believes Judge Armstrong will adopt the jury's recommendation. Immediately after court adjourned. H. A. Smith, attorney for Shockley, said, in response to a question, that he had not decided whether he would move for a new trial. Shockley at once broke in with a negative shake of his head and, in a low voice, said:

During the time the jury was absent from the court room. Shockley remained quietly seated at a table. He was plainly ill at ease, although he bore himself quietly. as the Little Kanawaha syndicate, an organization controlling coal lands and railway interests in West Virginia, was filled in the United States circuit court today. At the head of the syndicate are George J. Gould, Joseph Ramsey, Jr., president of the Wabash, and William E. Guy of St. Louis.

The plaintiff is John S. Jones, holder of $100,000 worth of stock in the syndicate. He lives in Chicago and is represented by Attorneys Matthews of Cincinnati and William Burry of Chicago.

Restraining Order Issued.

Judge Richards set Oct. 9 as the time of the hearing, and a restraining order was issued temporarily restraining the defendants from "selling contracting to sell, transferring or parting with" any property of the Kanawaha syndicate. The grounds set forth in the bill of complaint are numerous, among them being several prominent ones. It is alleged that "the antagonistic attitude" of Gould and Ramsey is detrimental to the welfare of the syndicate; that an effort is being made by the defendants that might destroy profit at the expense of the lesser holders; that Ramsey and Guy have voted that any two of the three heads of the syndicate may transact its business, thus eliminating Gould: that the lands are being sold at about one-half of the true value. The plaintiff takes no side between Ramsey and Gould, but the action is brought to protect the plaintiff and those holders who may be similarly situated.

Jones Wants to Know.

It is alleged in the petition that $5,000.-000 has been subscribed, of which Gould put in $5,000,000; Ramsey, $300,000; Guy, $300,000; James T. Blair, $190,000; Edward Fulton, $100,000, and others like and smaller amounts. It is alleged that the heavy subscribers have not paid in over 5 per cent of their subscriptions; that an inquiry should be made as to how the money has been spent: that the managers put $700,000 in the construction of a railway from Zanesville to the Ohio river, and then abandoned it when it was found that the new line would not be for the advantage of other enterprises in which the managers were engaged; that information as to the progress of affairs of the concern has been refused this petitioner. Most of the time, however, he sat star-ing at the wall before him, a nervous motion of his fingers and a tapping note from the six powers has been hand-ed to the porte, declaring that their de-Shockley was in charge of Deputy note from the six powers has been handed to the porte, declaring that their decision to assume international control of the finances of Macedonia is unalterable. The note informs the Ottoman government that the foreign delegates appointed as controllers will arrive at Salonica, Oct. There is increasing friction between the British embassy and the porte in consequence of the delay in the payment of an indemnity to the owners of British dhows attacked by Arab pirates in the Red sea. The embassy's latest note pointed out that unless the matter was soon satisfactorily settled the incident would assume graver aspect. First Offered to Gould, Who Refused to Pay the $10,000,000 Asked. Pittsburg, Sept. 26.—Joseph Ramsey, jr., president of the Wabash railroad, announced on Sept. 16 that the sale of the Little Kanawaha properties had been completed. The purchasers were interests representing the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad, and it was said the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroads were also interested in the sale. The property was first offered to George Gould, who held a minority in the syndicate, but it is said he refused to nav the price demanded, which was $10,000,000. The Little Kanawaha properties are extensive and include vast coal lands from west of Parkersburg, W. Va., into Green county, Pennsylvania. the verdict in its scaled envelope. ONDON, Sept. 26.—The Merstham tunnel of the London & Southwestern railway, where the brutal murder of Frederick I. In the present case, the victim is a young woman, whose body was horribly mutilated. A long vell was tightly wedged in her mouth and the police are confident that the woman was murdered in the compartment of a train on which she was traveling and that her body was thrown from the car.

ries crossed in the matter of a party ablem. Yesterday in their city connition the Americans adopted the flag the United States as their emblem r the campaign. This was done on otion of P. J. Daly. The vote was assumed.

But it appears the Republicans have used the flag of the United States as their party emblem in the last four city campaigns. They have used the bee hive and the eagle in general elections, but in city elections the flag has been their exclusive property.

Naturally the Americans will say now: "We are first in the field and have the first choice of emblem. The other fellows may take what we leave."

Unfortunately for this contention, there is a law on the subject. Section 839, chapter 4, of the revised statutes of Utah Says:

"It shall be lawful to designate the political party or group of petitioners, as the case may be, by an appropriate emblem or design, such as a flag, eagle, rooster or other device, as may be set forth in the certificate of nomination; provided, that no two sets of nominations shall use or have the same device, and that such political party, or group of petitioners shall have the prior right to use the device used by it at the last similar election."
